Budget Action description:

This green sheet would add $17,000 in General Subfund (GSF) support to the Human Services Department (HSD) to restore funding for contracted services with Solid Ground Washington for the Lettuce Link program. This green sheet would also impose the following budget proviso:

“Of the appropriation in the 2012 budget for the Department of Human Services (HSD) Self Sufficiency BCL, $33,000 is appropriated solely for Solid Ground Washington Lettuce Link contract to fund produce collection and distribution, seed distribution, and gardening education and may be spent for no other purpose.”

The Lettuce Link program provides fresh organic produce, seeds, and information to low-income families in Seattle. The total program budget is $350,000 annually and the City's support for the program has been approximately $33,000 since 2009. City support has historically funded roughly 1,000 of the 6,700 hours of staff time associated with the program. At the end of July of 2011, Lettuce Link had distributed seed packets and gardening information to 3,163 food bank clients, engaged 1,456 volunteers in program related activities and expects to deliver fresh produce to 28 food banks by the end of the year.

In 2012, HSD is expected to renegotiate the Lettuce Link contract with Solid Ground Washington to clarify contracted outcomes and deliverables.
